

Tim Matiakis

My ballet class takes its inspiration from David Howard who I had the pleasure of working closely with on several occasions.

I focus on dynamics, articulation, musicality and flow.

I wish to use the physical form of ballet to propose that within it can exist multiple possibilities of movement and movement experiences, that can derive from the recognizable structure and aesthetic of ballet but that can just be experienced as dance and the act of dancing.